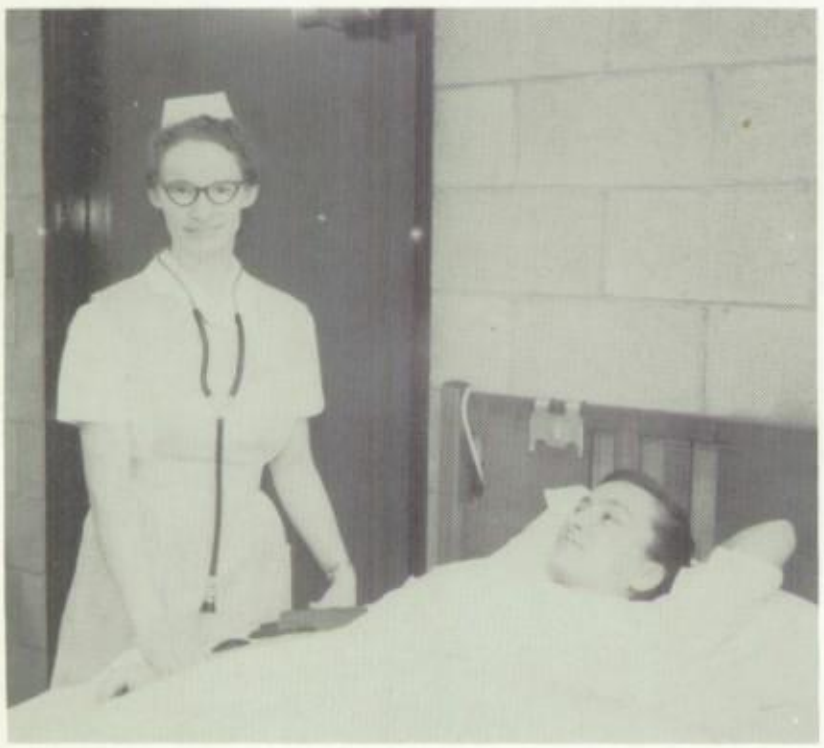
Dedication

Establishing a Christian home with the blessing, "nurture, and admonition of the Lord."

Clinton Christian Day School offers preparatory opportunities for many areas of Christian services by means of Bible courses, live, meaningful chapel periods, chorus participation, and especially the application of Christian principles in our so-called secular subjects and in the everyday problems and circumstances at our school. These opportunities supply ways and means for the young person



"Bear ye one another's burdens....distributing to the necessity of saints..."

That the Gospel of Jesus Christ may reach "the uttermost parts of the earth."

to grow into a happy, successful Christian. These alumni and types of Christian services (pictured) represent the fulfillment of the purpose of our school.

With gratitude to our faculty, Board, parents, alumni, and churches for the advancement of our school, we, the staff, dedicate this volume, the 1961 Echo, to the further extension of Christ's Kingdom - the Church.

"Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature."

"I will sing unto the Lord as long as I live: I will sing praise to my God while I have my being."

"And the servant of the Lord must....be gentle unto all men, apt to teach, and patient."

Administration

Board of Directors

A vote of earnest gratitude is due the Board of Directors. They meet often and long to make the decisions and to do the business incumbent with operating a school. A key responsibility is providing a teaching staff, a custodian, and the physical equipment and facilities for a good school. A perennial task of the Board is making a budget that will finance the task, then reaching the proposed goal. In carrying out these responsibilities, it must sometimes make policies and set precedences. It attempts to make all decisions in the light of directives of the association they represent, the desire of the patrons, the views of the teaching staff, the good of students, and, above all, the leading of God. The Board of Directors desires and deserves the support of the whole school constituency.

Religious Welfare Committee

The Religoius Welfare committee serves the school in two areas. It examines and approves all new teachers and textbooks. The committee also arranges about three special emphasis weeks throughout the year by providing guest chapel speakers and assigning the themes. The themes this year were "Our Heritage," "The Christian Life," and "Youths' Concerns."

Janitors

We also express gratitude to our Janitor, Vernon Bontrager, for creating in our classrooms pleasant and healthful atmospheres. His presence and contribution to our school is appreciated by the faculty and student body alike.

Principal's Message

The theme of this book of memories is, "The Stream of Life." Each of your lives is like a stream. From a small beginning, it grows larger and stronger as a host of experiences and influences pour in upon it.

Some of these experiences have come because — you were a student here. To some extent, you will bear the marks of the philosophy and spirit that characterize this school. As you leave our halls and the stream of your life continues to grow with continued influences, it is our desire that Grace and Truth will be the marks of your life. It was said of Jesus, "He came, full of grace and truth."

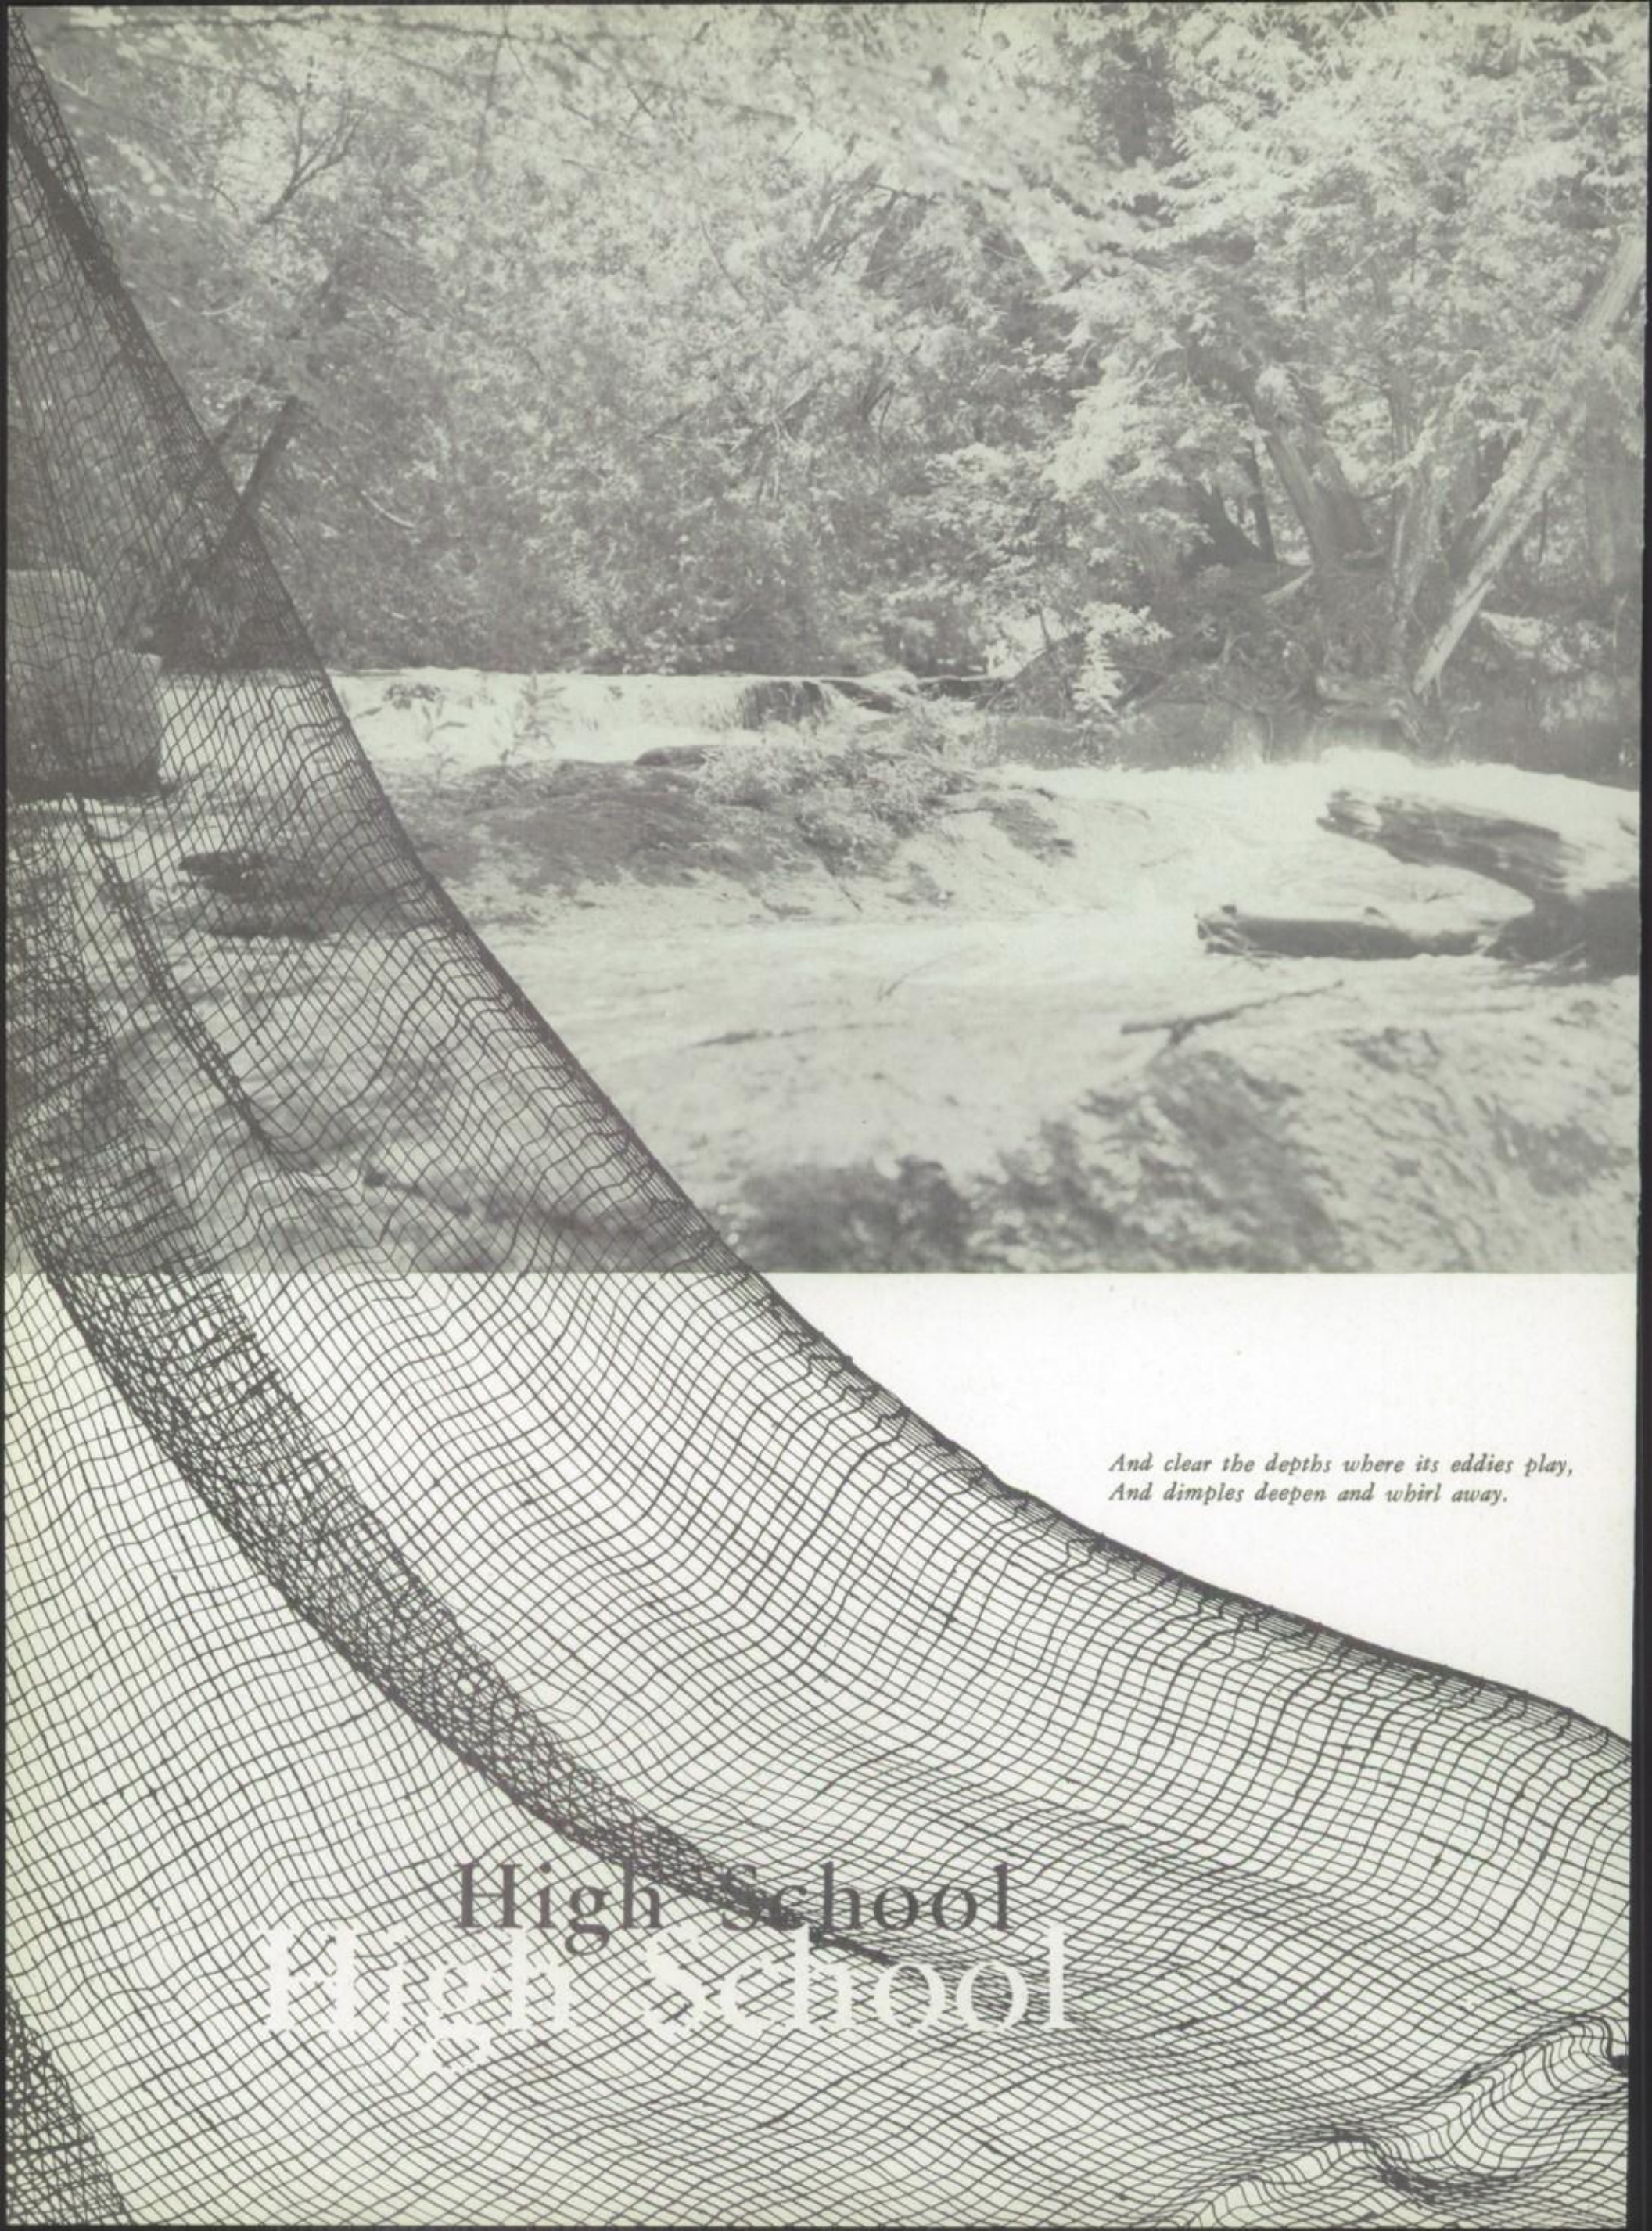
Truth sets men free. In a world of confusion, it is imperitive to know what is truth. In a time when men are ever learning without coming to the knowledge of the truth, we have the assurance, "Thy Word is Truth."

But, if you would be like Jesus, you must also be full of grace. To be gracious is as important as knowing truth. To walk in love is as needful as walking in truth.

Our earnest prayer for each of you, as the stream of your life continues to broaden and gain momentum, is that you might be filled with grace and truth as a disciple of Jesus Christ.

Galen Johns



And clear the depths where its eddies play,
And dimples deepen and whirl away.

Class Will

We, the Sophomores of Clinton Christian Day, on the first day of May, nineteen hundred and sixty-one; being of sound mind and body, do hereby make our last will and testament:

I, Rachel Cross, do hereby will my wit and wisdom to all ninth graders who may need it.

I, Maggie Graber, do hereby will my jovial personality to the future chorus members, so they can smile when they sing.

I, Walter Hochstetler, do hereby will my love for school to any who will be "16" during the next school year.

I, Joe Alan Johns, do hereby will my manliness to Elmer Beachy.

I, Steven Johns, do hereby will my originality to all future teachers.

I, Ruth Miller, do hereby will my sincere interest in people to any students who are too willing to live in their own little world.

I, Daniel Schrock, do hereby will my "ready tongue" to Mary Bontrager.

I, Rosetta Shrock, do hereby will my positive outlook of life to any future high school students who dread facing life.

I, Dean Shetler, do hereby will my ability to keep my corner of the room bright to any ninth grader who lacks this spice of life.

I, Evelyn Yoder, do hereby will my ability to handle people to anyone who can use it.

We, the Sophomores, do hereby will our ability to recognize and appreciate the challenges presented to us in Christian growth, ideals, values, and loyal service for Christ and the Church, to future high school students.

The School Chorus

In Action

Choruses

High School Chorus

Bro. Galen directs.

"Singing I go along life's way, praising my Lord, praising my Lord." Chorus singing and a Christian School go together like ducks and water. The School Chorus is composed of all students in grades seven to ten. It provides opportunity for musical expression, builds a literacy in various types of music, and provides abundant exercise in music reading. Annual and special programs provide opportunity for presentations.

The High School Chorus is a more spontaneous activity. No time is provided in the schedule. Noon hour play time is sacrificed for this. Better music reading ability and a tightly-knit group spirit have made singing in the High School Chorus a pleasure to remember.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

With the principal, the Student Council is responsible to organize athletic activities, recommend the purchase and replacement of athletic equipment. They elect committees and place nominees for reorganization of school publications.

The Student Council aids in making, interpreting, building, and maintaining the Christian integrity and democratic standards of conduct in the school.

Parent-Teachers Association

P.T.A. Officers

Amzie Yoder showed Pax slides at the October P.T.A.

There are three purposes for the Parent-Teachers Association It serves as a means of acquaintance and cooperation for both patrons and teaching staff. It also provides programs of public interest. It aims, especially, to have programs of information and interest in areas of school concern. In this way it seeks to keep the school community alert and literate in the affairs and opportunities of Christian education. In addition to these, the P.T.A. tries to recognize ways in which it can provide the "extra touches" of equipment, decor, facilities, or encouragement that often spell the difference between the "good" and the "best" in Christian school experience.

". . . as a means of acquaintance and cooperation for both patrons and teaching staff."
